Emergency Power Generators – Keyes Life Safety Compliance

Q: I am a consultant and I visited an ASC that had a natural gas generator housed indoors, located in the basement of the facility. The ATS switch was located in the same room as the generator. I am not used to seeing generators located inside of the building. Is the ATS allowed to be in the same room?

Covers on Manual Pull Stations – Keyes Life Safety Compliance

Q: We are in the process of putting manual pull station covers on most if not all of our stations. Some of the stations are dual action. Will putting a cover on a dual action manual pull station convert it to a triple action? Is there a code which prevents this situation from being acceptable?
